DEBATE

Our first years debating T Birds flew through their season with outstanding scores. The experience of their coach James Alderdice built and perfected the team which brought home many trophies. The team traveled to different colleges around the state, leaving Shorewood as early as 7:00 a.m. Alderdice feels confident that some of his team will be traveling to state competition.

GIRLS CLUB

Kathy Richey, President, and Mrs. Walker, Advisor.

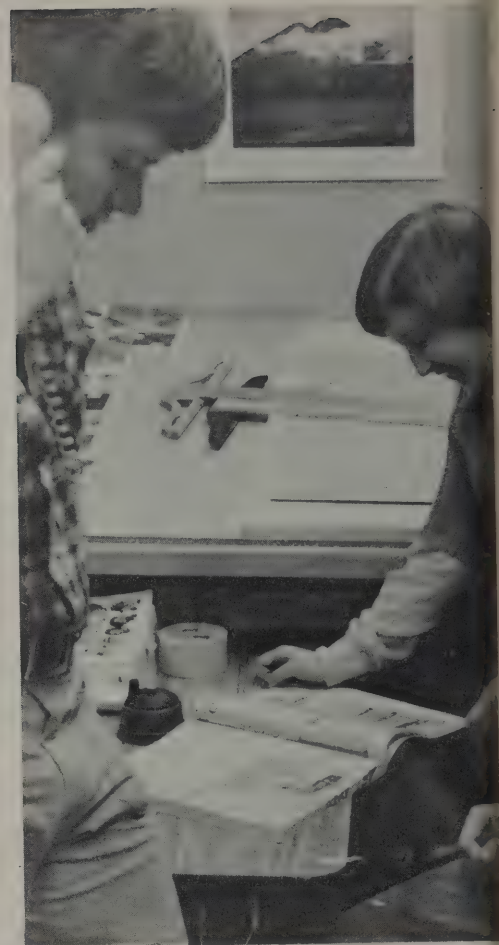

Girls Club is an organization that creates and supports special interest activities. Their major purpose is to answer the needs and wants of girls here at Shorewood. First semester was highlighted by dances! "Dancin' in the Moonlight", Shorewoods first Grub Tolo. Rail & Co. helped to make it a big success and all those that attended enjoyed it. Second semester held lots of new excitement including a Mother-Daughter dessert, and a Semi-Formal Tolo. All through the school it was hard to find anyone who hadn't supported Girl's Club in one way or another. Whether it be by wearing buttons, eating candy, apples, or fudge, carrying carnations, or buying candy grams for Valentine's day. They worked hard for everything they did, and even when they were defeated, they stood up and accepted all the results good naturedly. They had lots of fun and enjoyed giving the students something different.

Mr. Wood, Advisor

The production of a yearbook is not an easy task. It is a time consuming and confusing job. The annual staff, which met first period and was advised by Mr. Wood, spent a large portion of their own time, outside of class, operating the concession stand and raising money to supplement the funds donated by the student body association. Special praise goes to head editor Kim Salmi, along with other editors Sue Winnie, Julie Gauntt, and Julie McQueen, who were responsible for overseeing the entire operation. The staff was very dedicated and worked dilligently, and the fruit of their efforts is reflected in the '77 HORIZON.

AUTOGRAPHS

T'was the night before opening and all through the house,
There were many nervous actors, and EVEN a mouse.

When out on the stage there arose such a clatter,
Director Fick jumped to see what was the matter.

Away to the wings he flew like a flash,
When off of the curtain there fell such a crash.

A cepter and crown and a terrible roar,
Ran down the stage and through K14's door.

The actors accepted him as some kind of a Lord,
So on went production of "The Mouse That Roared".

The three nights were a smash, but went by quick,
As Friday night's sell-out made Fick use his Schick.

With thirty-two cast members remembering each line,
That Saturday night . . . PARTY TIME!

With nobody left in Shorewood's house,
For a short time later, it was quiet as a . . .

BOWLING

Coach, Mr. Hopkins led his bowling team to a fairly successful season this year and is looking forward to an even better one next year. He hopes to see all of you next year. The Varsity Boys team consists of: Scott Cauffman, Roger Clayton, Jon Cuddeback, Rick Hodge, Ron Manney, and the team Captain Jeff Webb. The Varsity are Robin Manney, Keresty Kalvisti, Missy Melvin, and Gayla Woodey. The Junior Varsity members are Bob Pahre, John Schlatter. Awards were given to Rodger Clayton and Robin Manney for high series and high games.

DANCE COMMITTEE

A successful year

Dance Committee, sponsored by the SBA, was formed to provide dances for the entire student body. The dances were usually put on after a football or basketball game. People expect to have fun at dances; they did just that as Shorewood's dances were well planned and attended. Despite a doubling of costs this year, T-bird enthusiasm and support for our dances made the Dance Committee's hard work well worth the effort. Thanks also go to Mrs. Tyler for recruiting chaperones from our ever-helpful community.

The freshman football team lead by Head Coach Gail Pintler and Asst. Coach Ed Wissing went undefeated to become the Northern Division King-Co Jr. High League Champions. This is the fourth year in a row that the freshman have taken this title. The team was always strongest against the tough teams, with Canyon Park previously undefeated before being dominated by the T-birds. Great Job, Guys!

CROSS COUNTRY

Both the boys' and girls' cross country teams had a successful season under the expert coaching of Mr. Kreiss. Although they did not take metro this year, the boys did a fine job against stiff competition. The girls team also represented Shorewood proudly as they took the metro championship trophy. Outstanding athletes from both teams included Diane Wyvel, individual metro champion, Tim Duffy, boys team captain, Ann Kiemble, Leslie Rice, and Doug Anderson.

Four of the team members - Sheila Groth, Jacinta Bennett, Wendy Carter, and Kelly Bohart - were asked to play on the AAU team which is training for the Olympics.

Yesterday, today, tomorrow; how quickly they blend one into the other. The memories of yesterday and the promises of tomorrow meet in the living of today. For this reason, today is a mixture of gratitude and challenge.

As we think of the past and the life that has ended, we are grateful for the benefits we have received from it. As we think of the inscrutable future we feel the challenge of our possibilities, that life tomorrow must be filled with greater worth and meaning. Today, in the midst of sadness and loss, we resolve to pick up the unfinished tasks laid down by those who have lived, to dream a new their unfulfilled dreams, and to give of ourselves to sharing the enduring qualities of beauty, joy, and love, which they have shared with us.

IN MEMORY OF . . . STEVE BRASSFIELD
